"HAIR" TO BE DISCUSSED THURSDAY

Cultural Cinema Club will present a discussion of the musical "Hair" on Thursday at 1 p.m. in Spoon River. The discussion is expected to be interesting and knowledgeable, since several who attended the JC Players sponsored trip to see the musical last week will attend. All students are invited, and this meeting will be the first get together this semester.

BROTHERHOOD WEEK MARKED BY ASSEMBLY

This week marks National Brotherhood Week. In observance of the week, the Students of Social Science will present an assembly and guest lecturer on this Thursday, February 19, at 11 a.m. in the Student Union. The speaker will be Robert Lyons, Director of Educational Opportunities for the state of Illinois (see advertisements). The club stated that their theme for the week and the program is "Give A Damn About Brotherhood."

The club hopes to bring about an awareness and a general concern for the meaning of brotherhood. At this writing, it was learned that the Black Students Union will also participate in the presentation.

Word of the proceedings was received too late to make Monday's Subterranean Side Show, hence the reason for publishing in the middle of the week. All concerned hope the student body will attend this truely worthwhile and sincere program.

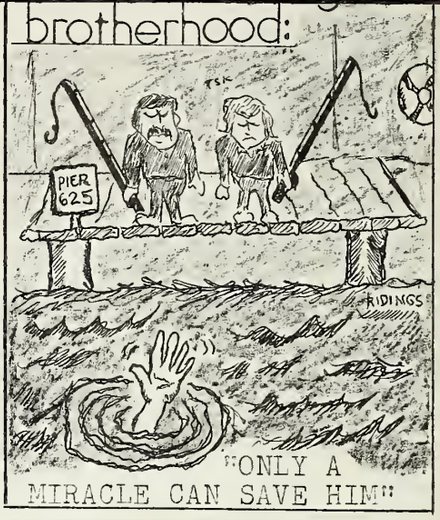
brotherhood:



In the age of the Bomb, senseless wars, and deadly pollution, men sometimes find themselves drawn together by a common cause; but these same factors also can polarize men into two opposite camps. The president who refuses to listen to his people; the "judge" who is determined to imprison men he doesnt like, regardless of what the jury may say. During Brotherhood Week, we are to join together to see where we've strayed, and what we can do about it. Sometimes it's hard. In the face of inhuman brutality and blatant injustice, the violent way seems the easiest. But that has been the way of the past generation, and we've seen where its gotten them. Now is the time to face the problems with a new outlook. It's not easy; peace IS something to think about.

"I put a box filled with dirt and planted seeds on my window sill. What do you think came up?"
"I dont know. What?"
"A cop, who told me to take it away."

"Does anyone in your family play the piano?"
"Yes, my daughter"
"Then I have the attatchment you need for it."
"What's that?"
"A lock and key."

If you dont like what you read here, please throw your copy in the proper receptacle or pass it on... some people have been straining their backs picking them up off the cafeteria floor... BEST NEW FEDERAL JOB TITLE DEPT: Director of Research Into the Recreational Potential of Interplanetary Space Travel for the Culturally Disadvantaged.... CONFIDENCE IN YOUR LEADERS DEPT: On the Democratic answer to the "State Of the Union," Rep. McCormick, the Speaker of the House, began his speech allowing as how his many years in Congress he had discovered that there were two kinds of representatives. Democrats and Republicans... in case you'd forgotton, this fine mind is second in line should anything happen to the Prez..... AMERICAN INGENUITY DEPT: A million and a half of the beautiful San Bernadino pine trees have died recently, and the whole huge range is expected to to in the next 3 to 5 years. Why? Smog from L.A. The solution suggested by yet another fine mind... develop a hybrid pine tree resistant to smog... WELCOME TO THE VICTORIAN AGE DEPT: Have you checked your library lately? Did you notice that the volumes dealing with sex and/or marriage are under lock and key? Now, who do suppose would do a thing like that?... FANTASY LAND DEPT: There are some people on some school newspapers (not the SSS) who believe that topics such as the Vietnam war have been overworked and should not be in the paper, or, if included, should not be emphasized. Such publications believe in dealing with school issues and leaving things alone that students arent or shouldnt be concerned with. Well, if there is one student on this campus that isnt concerned with the war, its illegality and immorality... if there's anyone tired of hearing about a few thousand dead men, women, and children, signify by saying "Aye" and I'll personally acquaint them with Tralfamadore or Never-Never Land, take your pick.... ORDER IN THE COURT DEPT: I remember reading once somewhere that man now has something in the neighborhood of 35 million laws to enforce ten commandments... in the possibility that this should seem too few for you, please rest assured that just one law can cover many things. In the unlikely event that some judge ever wanted to use it, Contempt of Court is one of those elastic clauses that applies to such things as laughing, applauding, refusing to rise, blowing kisses, supporting co-defendents, addressing anything out of order (perhaps even envelopes), and "bearing body" to a jury. The sentence for these crimes is, of course, at the discretion of the fictional judge, and it can vary with his moods; some days, for instance, laughing is worth seven days, and at other times it's only a one-dayer. This all comes under the heading of decorum, naturally. I wonder how many days the constant repitition of "objection" and "sustained" might bring?.....
